

TERMS OF BUSINESS

This Terms of Business effective from 14th September 2021

This document is important. It sets out the terms and conditions on which we will conduct business with you, including limits on our liability to you. Please read this document carefully. You should contact us if anything is unclear. Defined terms are set forth in Annex I.

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 This agreement sets out the legally binding terms and conditions between you and us, Tradeska Limited, which apply when you use our services. This agreement replaces any previous terms of business between you and us.

1.2 Tradeska Limited provides online trading platforms (including its own and third-party platforms, such as MT5), which allow you to trade investment products known as contracts for difference (our "Products" or "CFDs"). We allow you to trade our Products in various underlying Instruments, including foreign exchange, indices, commodities, equities, shares, metals, bonds and cryptocurrencies, and other Instruments from time to time which may be displayed on our Trading Platform. Trading Platform is defined in Annex 1, and different products may be traded on different platforms (and which may from time to time be governed by a supplemental agreement).

The full extent of the services we provide and the risks involved are set out below.

1.3 Trading our Products is high risk and can result in losses that exceed the total sum you have invested.

1.4 By registering to use our Trading Platforms or Software, you agree to the terms and conditions in this agreement, our Privacy Policy and Terms of Use. We refer to these documents collectively as the "Agreement". You should read the Agreement carefully before using our services. A copy of the Agreement, and other relevant documents relating to our services, are available from your online Account and may be found on our Website.

1.5 When we refer to "you" and "your" in this Agreement, we mean a registered user of our Trading Platform, as well as any Authorized Person authorized to operate your Account.

1.6 Certain words or phrases that are capitalized in this Agreement have a specific meaning. Annex 1 explains the meaning of these words or phrases. You should refer to these definitions as you read this Agreement.

- 4.4 You will enter into all Transactions with us on an execution only basis. An "execution only basis" means you will be solely responsible for all investment decisions and actions on your Account. You must therefore rely on your own judgment in respect of all dealings relating to your Account. This includes, but is not limited to, opening, closing, or not opening or closing, a Transaction.
- 4.5 When you enter into a Transaction with us, you are trading a derivative contract. A derivative is a contract which derives its price from an underlying asset. This underlying asset could (for example) be a share in a company, a commodity such as gold or the change in the exchange rate of currencies. You are therefore trading on potential price movements in the underlying asset. However, you will not have any interest in, or be entitled to, delivery of the underlying asset and, with respect to share CFDs, you will have no voting right, title or interest in any underlying asset or entitlement or right to acquire, receive, hold, vote, deliver, dispose of or participate directly in any corporate action of any underlying asset.
- 4.6 It is your responsibility to ensure that you are aware of all the rules governing a particular Transaction before you open it. In this regard, you should ensure that you familiarize yourself with the information on our Website, and the information that is disclosed about the instrument that you wish to trade on the trading platform immediately prior to providing your trading instructions.
- 4.7 In the event of a conflict between the terms of this Agreement and any other document, the terms in this Agreement shall prevail.

5. WE DO NOT PROVIDE ADVICE AND ARE NOT AN INVESTMENT EXCHANGE

- 5.1 We will not make personal recommendations to you or give you any advice or recommendations including, for the avoidance of doubt, any tax related advice. Therefore, any information or explanation we may provide as to the terms of a Transaction or its performance characteristics will not amount to advise.
- 5.2 It is your responsibility to evaluate each Transaction and ensure that it meets your requirements and investment preferences.
- 5.3 Our Trading Platform is not an Exchange or a market. This means you can only enter into Transactions with us on the Trading Platform and all Transactions opened on our Trading Platform must be closed on our Trading Platform, and cannot be closed with any other entity. Accordingly, we are responsible for the prices quoted on the Trading Platform.

6. WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF USING OUR SERVICES?

- 6.1 Trading our Products carries a higher degree of risk than ordinary share or foreign exchange dealing and will not be appropriate for everyone.
- 6.2 Trading using leverage can result in losses. Trading with leverage magnifies your gains and losses, and so small price changes in the underlying asset can result in large losses or gains.
- 6.3 Leverage is a form of borrowing. Trading using leverage allows you to trade without paying or depositing the full value of your Position in advance. We take a form of security (or deposit) against any losses you may incur when you trade using leverage. This is known as Margin.
- 6.4 We set the prescribed limits on the amount of leverage that a client may be exposed to on our Products. The leverage levels available to clients are available on our Website.
- 6.5 We set leverage levels and thereby the amount of Margin required to both open and maintain Positions, and can make alterations for any reason. There may be occasions where it is not possible to provide you with any advance notice due to underlying market conditions.
- 6.6 Accounts that have total volume of open positions of 100 lots are considered high-risk accounts. We may decrease the leverage/increase the margin of those accounts to reduce the risk of trading.
- 6.7 The value of your investments may go up or down.
- 6.8 Past performance is not a guide to future performance.
- 6.9 We may perform a Margin Closeout if the markets move against you. A Margin Closeout will result in us closing some or all of your Open Positions. This would realize any losses or gains on your Open Positions. We do not need to give you advance notice or time to respond to a Margin 4 Closeout. We may also close any or all of your Open Positions if you exceed the limits applicable to your Account, including any trading account.

- 6.10 Trading our Products does not give you any right to the underlying Instrument of the Transaction. Our Products represent a notional value only.
- 6.11 The spread we offer is not fixed. This means the prices and spreads we offer may vary at any time.
- 6.12 You should ensure you fully understand the risks involved before using our services and take appropriate investment, financial, legal, tax and other necessary professional, independent advice.

7. OPENING AN ACCOUNT

- 7.1 If you open an Account, it will initially comprise of a landing account (also known as a wallet) and a trading account which will automatically be created when you make your first deposit.
- 7.2 You may then open multiple trading accounts, denominated in different or the same currencies, or perhaps linked to different technologies offered through our Trading Platform. We may limit the types and number of trading accounts that you can open at our discretion.
- 7.3 Your Account comprises of all your landing accounts and trading accounts.
- 7.4 You are only permitted to have one Account relationship with us. If we reasonably suspect you have more than one Account relationship, including by having multiple Connected Accounts, then we may close one of those Accounts and their associated landing and trading accounts without notice.
- 7.5 Additionally, funds may be deposited directly to a trading account. Each customer can deposit a maximum of 1.000.000 USD to a trading account.
- 7.6 We will treat each trading account separately so your Positions will not be netted across all your trading accounts.
- 7.7 We retain a right of set off between balances held on landing and trading accounts, in the event of a negative balance on one or more trading accounts.
- 7.8 You need to provide us with certain information about yourself before opening an Account. This will include details of your personal. We refer to this information as "Registration Data".
- 7.9 The Registration Data you provide to us must be complete, accurate and not misleading. We will rely on the Registration Data you provide to us unless we are aware that such information is manifestly out of date, inaccurate, misleading or incomplete.

7.10 You must notify us of any material changes to the Registration Data. We may ask you to update or confirm the Registration Data you previously provided to us from time to time. We may terminate this Agreement or suspend your Account if you fail to provide such information to us or if we believe that such information is not accurate. We will only take such steps if it is reasonable to do so.

7.11 From time to time, we may add to, modify or remove certain Account or wallet or trading account types or the functionality of such accounts. This may result in changes to your Account, and/or landing accounts and/or trading accounts. We will try to minimize disruption to you if we do this. We will give you prior written notice where we believe our actions may result in detriment to you.

7.12 We may carry out credit and other checks (including but not limited to verification of identity, fraud prevention checks and checks into your current and past investment activities) from time to time as we deem appropriate. Your Registration Data or other information may be used in the prevention of money laundering as well as for the management of your Account. You authorize us to use your Registration Data and other information in this way.

7.13 In electronically submitting the Account application form you are authorizing us to make such searches as we see fit to certify that the information that you have supplied is complete and accurate. Such searches will include, but may not be restricted to, information from the electoral register and credit reference agencies. We may undertake searches with credit reference agencies, such as but not limited to: Equifax, Experian and GB Group for the purposes of verifying your identity. To do so the credit reference agency may check the details you supply against any particulars on any database (public or otherwise) to which they have access.

7.14 We may refuse to open an Account for you for any reason. We are under no obligation to tell you why we have refused your application.

7.15 If you act in connection with or on behalf of someone else, whether or not you identify that person to us, we will not accept that person as an indirect customer of ours and we will not owe any obligation or duty to them unless otherwise specifically agreed in writing. Failure to inform us that another person is operating your Account may result in us terminating this Agreement, suspending your Account and/or closing any open Transactions you may have with us.

8. MARGIN AND DEPOSIT REQUIREMENTS

- 8.1 For each Transaction, we require you to have certain funds (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) available on your trading account, this is known as Margin. Margin protects us against negative price movements, which can result in you having trading losses on your Open Positions and can lead to you owing us money if any of your Open Positions were closed. Margin protects us in case you are not able to pay any money you owe us when Transactions are closed out.
- 8.2 When you enter into a Transaction, we require you to have sufficient funds (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) available to cover Margin in relation to the Positions to be opened on your trading account. We set the amount of Margin needed for clients, and can alter it for any reason. We apply different margin rates for different sizes of Positions, ie: tiered margin. Margin rates for different Instruments are available on our platform.
- 8.3 In order to keep a Position open, you are required to maintain a minimum amount of money (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) in your trading account, this is known as the "Margin Requirement".
- 8.4 You must maintain sufficient funds (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) in your trading account at all times to meet the Margin Requirement on your Open Position(s). We may close any Open Position(s) on your account when the funds on your account (including all unrealized losses and profits as well as any bonuses and trading credit(s)) falls to or below 50% of the Margin needed to place the Transactions.
- 8.5 We may require you to deposit additional funds at short notice to ensure that your Margin Requirement is met to maintain your Open Position(s). This is known as a "Margin Call". We are not obliged to make a Margin Call in any circumstances. If we do not make a Margin Call, we reserve the right but not the obligation, to close Open Positions. If we do not make a Margin Call and allow you to continue to trade or to keep your Open Positions open, you may incur further losses. In these circumstances we will not be responsible for such losses.

8.6 If we make a Margin Call, the only actions you will be able to take on your trading account are:

- (a) Depositing or transferring further funds to meet the Margin Requirement; or
- (b) either closing Positions or reducing the size of your Positions to reduce the Margin Requirement.

8.7 We may use any money we hold on your behalf, or close out some or all of your Open Positions starting with the largest Position held on an open-market, in order to meet a Margin Call. We will not be responsible for any actions or inaction on our part in relation to a Margin Call where we act in accordance with this Agreement, including where we do not notify you that you are on a Margin Call. It is your responsibility, at all times, to monitor your Open Position(s) and to ensure that you have sufficient funds (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) on your trading account to cover the Margin Requirement.

8.8 We will close out one or more of your Open Positions when you do not have sufficient funds (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) available on your trading account to cover the Margin Requirement, ie: the available funds fall to below 50% of the Margin needed to open the Positions. Where we do this, we will close your Open Positions at the current market price and this may result in you incurring a loss on the Transaction(s). You will be responsible for any losses you incur as a result.

8.9 Where any loss or profit is in a currency other than your trading account's Base Currency, we will convert such loss or profit into your trading account's Base Currency at our prevailing currency exchange rate at the time that we close out such a Transaction. You acknowledge and agree to bear any exchange rate risk or other market movements that may result from such and/or the exercise by us of our rights under this Agreement.

9. ENTERING INTO TRANSACTIONS ON THE TRADING PLATFORM

9.1 You must access our Trading Platform using your Access Code, which is the password emailed on the successful completion of the Account opening process, or when you requested to change your password, and your account number.

TRADESKA

- 9.2 You may enter into a Transaction at any time during Trading Hours. If you place an Order Outside Trading Hours, we may not be able to execute the Order at the specified price if the market is not trading at the price you specified once Trading Hours commence.
- 9.3 You enter into a new Transaction by opening a new Position or closing all or part of an existing Position.
- 9.4 For each Position, you will choose whether to buy or sell (this is also known as going "long" (buy) or "short" (sell)). We quote both a buy and sell price for each Instrument. The difference between these prices is known as the spread. The spread we offer can vary at any time and may be different when you open and close a Position. The spread widens and narrows based on changes in the underlying market. This is known as a dynamic spread.
- 9.5 For each Transaction you enter into, you make us an offer to enter into a Transaction (either to open or to close a Position) at the price available on the Trading Platform when we execute your Transaction.
- 9.6 The price we quote on the Trading Platform may move rapidly due to changing market conditions. As such, the quote at which you offered to enter into the Transaction may not remain valid by the time we execute the Transaction. You agree that we may still execute your Order at a different price to that quoted on our Trading Platform when you offered to enter into the Transaction. There is no restriction to the extent that you could benefit from such price movement or the extent to which you could suffer from such price movement.
- 9.7 We are under no obligation to accept your offer to enter into any Transaction.
- 9.8 You will have opened or closed a Position when we have accepted your offer, and when opening a Position, you have sufficient funds (which includes any bonuses and trading credits) on your trading account to cover the Margin needed to open the Position.
- 9.9 You must place all Transactions through the Trading Platform. If any other person (other than an Authorized Person) performs actions in relation to your Account, we may take any action we deem necessary (including to comply with Applicable Law). This may involve terminating the Agreement, suspending your Account and/or closing or reversing Transactions.

- 9.10 We will not accept any form of written offer to open or close a Transaction, including offers sent by fax, email or text message, or offers made by telephone, unless we have expressly stated in writing via an emergency notification.
- 9.11 We may establish trading and leverage limits on your Account at our sole discretion, or to comply with Applicable Law, with or without notice. Such limits may include, but are not limited to, limits on the amount of leverage that you may be exposed to on our Products, limits to the number of trading accounts available for trading, limits on the size of any Transaction or series of Transactions which together create a large size Open Position, limits on the size of any Open Positions in your Account and/or the number of Transactions permitted within a set period of time. Such limits may be imposed on your Account, including on all trading accounts on an aggregate basis, or on any individual trading account, in our reasonable discretion. In the event that you breach any such limits, we reserve the right to close any or all Open Positions in your Account in our reasonable discretion. In dealing with large size Transactions or a series of large size Transactions, we may, in our reasonable discretion, enter into them or close them out at a price or prices that are different from the price or prices quoted on the Trading Platform.
- 9.12 We may establish maximum exposure limits per client, with or without notice, including, without limitation, the right but not the obligation to enforce the closure of Positions to bring the exposure on your open Transactions within the prescribed limits.
- 9.13 We may take reasonable corrective action for Invalid Transactions, including, without limitation, the right to reverse or amend:
- (a) any Transaction constituting an Invalid Transaction; or
 - (b) any or all Transactions executed after an Invalid Transaction and prior to our corrective action.

If we do not reverse or amend such Transaction(s), we may credit your Account for the portion of the realized loss, or debit your Account for the portion of the realized profit, in each case attributable to any such Transaction(s). Any Open Positions that, due to such Transaction(s), are either reduced or closed shall remain reduced or closed. It shall be your sole responsibility to monitor the remaining Open Positions in your Account and take any action you deem prudent with respect to such Positions. The fact that we have confirmed any Transaction(s) shall not prevent us from taking such corrective action.

- 9.14 We reserve the right to aggregate a Transaction of yours with one or more Transactions of our other clients, including clients of Tradeska, and with Transactions relating to the proprietary trading and hedging activity of the Tradeska, if to do so does not negatively impact Tradeska clients as a whole. This also applies to our execution of Pending Orders. Where we do so, the aggregate opening or closing level for your Transactions may differ from your specified offer level or from the price that would have been attained if your order had been executed as a single Transaction or not aggregated with Transactions of our other clients.
- 9.15 Tradeska reserves the right to cancel orders with a duration less than 3 minutes, or 180 seconds. If the number of orders in most of the account's mass hedged by counter-orders earlier than in 3 minutes (exceeds 20% of total order or total trading volume), Tradeska will refuse to provide services evermore.
- 9.16 Tradeska reserves the right to cancel orders which are placed at the times of closing market and closed at the times of market opening on the next trading day (15 minutes or 900 seconds before market closing, or 15 minutes or 900 seconds after market opening) because the orders have taken gap abuse. If they lead to violate the global market activity, Tradeska will refuse to provide services for the Customer evermore
- 9.17 If Tradeska suspects or has reason to believe that Customer has abused the Terms of Use by hedging positions internally or externally, Tradeska reserves the right to cancel any trades or profits associated with Customer's account(s).

10. SPECIFIC TRADING INSTRUCTIONS YOU CAN GIVE

- 10.1 When you make an offer to enter into a Transaction you can either:
- (a) open a Transaction at the best available price on the Trading Platform at the time of opening that Transaction, this is called a "Market Order"; or
 - (b) offer to open a Transaction at a particular target price set by you, this is called a "Pending Order".
- 10.2 We may also, from time to time, offer trading features which you can utilize when you place an Order.
- 10.3 We execute all Transactions at the best price available at the time in accordance with our execution policy.

10.4 When you place an Order with us, you expressly acknowledge and agree that you fully understand all the terms and conditions attached to such Order.

Market Order

10.5 When you place a Market Order, the price at which we execute the Transaction may not be the same price which was displayed on the Trading Platform when you submitted the Order, as prices are subject to continual movement. Your offer to open a Market Order may be accepted at a lower or higher price than the price indicated by you in your Market Order. There is no restriction as to the extent that your Market Order could be executed at a beneficial price for you or at a worse price for you.

10.6 If you choose to open a Market Order, your offer will be accepted at the best possible price offered on the Trading Platform at the time you place your Order, in accordance with our execution policy.

Pending Order

10.7 When you specify a target price for a Pending Order, the price at which we execute the Transaction may not be the price you specified when you placed your Order. This may be due to volatile market conditions outside our control. You agree that we may execute a Pending Order at a different price to the price you indicated in your Pending Order.

10.8 There may be occasions when we are unable to execute a Pending Order at the level you specified, despite our reasonable efforts to do so. This could be due to market volatility and factors beyond our reasonable control, such as, but not limited to, liquidity available in the market and time taken for an Order to reach the market due to the number of intermediaries. For example, an Order may be closed at a worse price than you specified because the market moved too quickly for us to execute sooner. Where this happens, we will close the Transaction at the next best price. This is referred to as slippage. There can be slip page on both opening and closing Orders equivalent', however, this is not an actual tax charge as you will not own the underlying Instrument.

10.9 You may cancel a Pending Order at any time prior to its execution without any liability.

- 11.8 We may charge you for Market Data or any other ancillary services we make available to you.
- 11.9 We may deduct from any payments due to you such amounts as are required to be deducted in accordance with Applicable Law.
- 11.10 If there are no Transactions on your Account for a period of at least 03 months, the trade history under your Account may be cleared.

12. GENERAL RULES OF TRADING

- 12.1 All prices shown on the Trading Platform are indicative only, relate to Normal Market Size and are subject to constant change as the market changes.
- 12.2 The prices we quote will be in accordance with our execution protocols and will be valid at the time we quote them. However, they may be withdrawn or modified at any time thereafter. A Transaction will be initiated by you by offering to open or close a Transaction with us on an Instrument at the level quoted by us. We may accept or reject your offer to open or close a Transaction at any time until the Transaction has been executed or we have acknowledged that your offer has been withdrawn. A Transaction will be deemed to have been opened or closed only when your offer has been received and accepted by us.
- 12.3 In respect of each Instrument we quote that is based on the price of a share that is traded on a recognized Exchange, there is a corresponding Exchange Market Size for Transactions in that Instrument. It is important that you familiarize yourself with any Exchange Market Size that is applicable to a Transaction before you open it, as a Transaction that is in excess of Exchange Market Size may be dealt with differently from a Transaction that is within Exchange Market Size.
- 12.4 Any price that we quote is valid only for a Transaction equivalent in size to the quotes available to us in the underlying market on which they were based.
- 12.5 If you offer to open a Transaction that is larger than Exchange Market Size, rather than accepting your offer as a whole, we reserve the right to accept your offer as a series of smaller Transactions, each Transaction having a different (bid/offer) price.

- 12.6 You accept that there may be a delay in our offering you a quote to close a Transaction that is in excess of four times (4x) the Exchange Market Size, or where any number of Transactions taken together are in excess of four times (4x) the Exchange Market Size. This is particularly likely to be the case where the Instrument in respect of which the Transaction is made is illiquid. Depending on the circumstances, the delay could be one of hours, days, weeks or even months, and might involve our quoting you a series of prices for closing the Transaction in tranches rather than at one time and a single price. If this happens the level of the Instrument may move against you during the period of delay. You should bear these potential consequences in mind prior to opening a Transaction in excess of Exchange Market Size (or accumulating a Position in excess of Exchange Market Size by placing a number of Transactions) and should only open such a Transaction (or accumulate such a Position) if you are prepared to accept the risks associated in doing so.
- 12.7 You must comply with any reasonable restrictions that we notify you of from time to time with respect to your activities on the Trading Platform, including limitations on, and the size of, Transactions and resultant Positions, or other conditions that may apply to our quote.
- 12.8 We may monitor the status of any Transaction; make Margin Calls or advise you that you are in breach of any Margin Requirements or limits, or close any Transaction that you have opened; but we are not under any obligation, unless required by Applicable Law, to take such action and will not be responsible for any losses you incur as a result of our action or inaction.
- 12.9 We may provide a quote and accept (and therefore act on) your offer to open or close a Transaction outside of the Trading Hours for an Instrument. Transactions can (and will) only be executed during the time when the relevant Exchange is open for business. It is your responsibility to ensure you are aware of the trading hours for the Instruments you trade in.
- 12.10 We may reject your offer to open or close a Transaction, or unwind or close any Open Positions without notice, if we reasonably believe:
- a) your offer to open or close the Transaction is given while the quote is no longer valid;

the Position, unless revalued by us as set out in this paragraph, will be based on the price quoted by the relevant Exchange at the time of suspension.

27.2 Irrespective of any instructions given by you (including an instruction to close) or any Pending Orders given by you in place on your Account, a Position on a suspended Instrument will remain open but suspended until such time as either the suspension is (a) lifted or (b) the stock is delisted and can be settled accordingly.

(a) Upon the lifting of suspension and the recommencement of trading, any Orders that are attached to the Position that have been triggered on the next last price will be executed as soon as is reasonable in the circumstances, having regard to the liquidity in the underlying market and any hedging transactions that we may need to execute with a third party in order to hedge our exposure to you. Due to the potential volatility upon the recommencement of trading, we cannot guarantee that Pending Orders will be executed at the first available underlying price.

(b) Where the Position relates to the price of shares in a company that has been delisted from the underlying Exchange, gone into liquidation or otherwise become insolvent or has been dissolved, we will close your Position.

27.3 If a company, whose shares represent all or part of the subject-matter of a Position, goes into liquidation or otherwise becomes insolvent, or is otherwise dissolved or de-listed by the underlying market by reason of the length of its suspension, the day on which the company goes into liquidation, or otherwise becomes insolvent, or is otherwise dissolved or de-listed will be the closure date of that Position. We will deal with your Position in the following manner, unless we are treated in an alternative manner by our liquidity provider, in which case such treatment as is reasonable will be applied to your affected Position:

(a) If you hold a Buy Position, the closing level of the Position will be zero. If a company makes a distribution to shareholders, an amount equaling the distribution will be credited to your Account.

(b) If you hold a Sell Position, the closing level of the Position will be zero. If a company makes a distribution to shareholders, an amount equaling the distribution will be debited from your Account. We reserve the right to require you to maintain Margin on this Position, which could be, for the avoidance of doubt, as much as the difference between the suspension price and zero.

27.4 Notwithstanding the above, if a company, whose shares represent all or part of the subject matter of a Position, is delisted from the exchange to which the Position relates, but at the time of delisting such company has not gone into liquidation or otherwise become insolvent, then we will take such action to the Position as is fair, taking into account the circumstances regarding the delisting and any hedging arrangements we have with our brokers. Examples of actions we may take include but are not limited to:

- (a) closing the Position at a price that is based on our fair and reasonable assessment of the value of the underlying Instrument to which the Position relates;
- (b) changing the Exchange to which the Position refers;
- (c) closing the Position at zero, as per the above provision;
- (d) maintaining the suspension of the Position until the company makes a distribution to shareholders of the underlying security, at which point if possible and taking into account our own hedging arrangements, we will reflect the distribution on your Position by way of a cash adjustment to your Account.

27.5 We reserve the right at all times during the term of a Position where the underlying Instrument is suspended to both:-

- a) revalue such Position at such price and/ or to change the Margin rate, in both cases as is reasonable in the circumstances and to require payment of Margin accordingly; and
- b) cancel any Pending Orders on the related Instrument.

If the Position remains open until such time as the suspension is terminated, which, for the avoidance of doubt, can occur without warning or notice to us, any remaining Pending Orders that you may have given us with respect to that Position will be executed as soon as is reasonable in the circumstances. We cannot guarantee that a Pending Order will be executed at the first available underlying market price.
